The Wedding Ceremony is one of the most cherished and beautiful sacred services that the Church offers, and the music selected and played not only creates a worshipful atmosphere, but celebrates the sacred union of two people in Christ.

When you have selected your wedding date, you should contact the church organist to see if he/she is available. As in most churches, the organist of the church will be used for all wedding services, unless he/she is unavailable. In this case, the organist can provide the name(s) of substitutes that would be able to play for the ceremony.

After confirming the dates and the organist, a consultation time will be set for you and the organist to meet and discuss the music for your wedding service. He/she will have many choices of appropriate pieces, and will be able to suggest processionals, recessionals and incidental music, and well as to suggest any vocal soloists or instrumentalists that you may want.

The Wedding ceremony is a liturgical service in the sacred life of the church, and as such, secular pop songs, love songs, show tunes, etc. are discouraged from being selected, but are to be welcomed in the post worship festivities! For the purposes of worship, music selected should be sacred or written specifically for church use.

The Music Ministry of Larchmont is fortunate to be able to provide a wonderful worship service for your Wedding, and looks forward to working with you to celebrate this joyous sacred occasion.
